| Brief Description of Research Project   | ROAD TRIP 2.0 - Transforming the Mobility Landscape for Aging America builds on the promise of the ROAD TRIP program to enhance the lives of aging rural adults struggling with mobility challenges, re-imagining program elements to create an expandable footprint. Multiple data collection methods and content delivery vehicles will be pilot tested in the course of this research. |
| Describe Implementation of Research Outcomes (or why Not implemented)Place Any Photos Here  | This research effort itself is a program implementation in addition to serving as a research effort. The goal of the current effort is to expand the footprint and outreach of the current ROAD TRIP effort to reach more people and provide greater societal benefits.   |
| Impacts/Benefits of Implementation (actual, not anticipated)  | ROAD TRIP participants/program enrollees to date have benefitted by having greater knowledge and self-awareness and by having alternative routes and techniques made available to them, enhancing safety, mobility, confidence, and overall life satisfaction.  |
